HOW IT WORKS ??

The Super Bio Health Heat Pack contains water, sodium acetate and an aluminium disc. Clicking the aluminium disc forces a few liquid molecules to flip to a solid state. This triggers a chain reaction, causing the sodium acetate solution to supercool and crystallize – thereby producing heat.

placing it in a pot of boiling water (see Quick Instruction). We recommend you first place a plate or thick cloth on the bottom of the pot to protect the heat pack. Boil the heat pack until it appears clear of crystals. This should take 5-15 minutes. Using tongs, remove the heat pack from the water.

The Super Bio Health Heat Pack will generate heat for 30 minutes up to two hours, dependent on the size of the pack. For longer-lasting heat, massage the heat pack as this will disperse the heat and keep the heat pack soft and malleable. When the Super Bio Health Heat Pack becomes hard, you can reuse it by Super Bio Health Heat Pack is portable which can give you instantaneous heat in any situation at a flex of button.

To use as a cold pack, store the Super Bio Health Heat Pack in the refrigerator for approximately 1 hour. Do not freeze the heat pack.

QUICK INSTRUCTION

1. Flex the metal disc inside the heat pack until crystals begin to form; the heat pack will harden as the liquid inside solidifies.

2. Massage the heat pack to evenly disperse the heat.

3. To reuse, place the heat pack in a pot of boiling water; place a plate on the bottom of the pot to protect the heat pack. Boil until the heat pack appears clear of crystals.

4. Use tongs to safely remove the heat pack from the pot. If the heat pack reactivates by itself, return to the boil for an extra 3-5 minutes.

5. The heat pack can be reused straight after boiling by wrapping the pack in a dry towel. When the heat pack cools, flex the metal disc to reactivate the heat pack.
